FROM THE OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER TRICIA PRIDEMORE

Commissioner Pridemore Wins Full Term; Named to Governor-Elect Kemp's Transition Team

ATLANTA, November 19, 2018 – Commissioner Tricia Pridemore has officially won election to a full six-year term on the Georgia Public Service Commission following the Secretary of State's certification of the November 6, 2018 election results. Governor Nathan Deal appointed Commissioner Pridemore on February 21, 2018 to fill the unexpired term of long time Commissioner Stan Wise. Georgia law required her to seek election to a full term in this year's General Election. Pridemore's term will officially begin on January 1, 2019.

"I am humbled and grateful that the people of Georgia have elected me to serve on the Georgia Public Service Commission. I will continue to strive for Georgia families by keeping rates low and to ensure that Georgia remains the number one state for business," said Pridemore.

In addition, Governor-elect Brian Kemp has named Commissioner Pridemore to his official Transition Team. She will serve as an advisor on State Government Operations.
