

Georgia Public Service Commission is accepting applications for Utility/Financial Analyst

Number of Openings: 1

Job Category: Utility/Financial Analyst, Accounting, Regulation

Salary: 65,000-$70,000 Commensurate with experience

Closing Date: Until filled

Primary Location: GA-Fulton-Atlanta

Job Description:

The Financial Analyst will work under general supervision in the Natural Gas Unit. The Financial Analyst will perform regulatory compliance work of basic to considerable difficulty as a member of the Natural Gas Unit in the application of Commission rules/policies, state/federal laws, utility ratemaking, finance/accounting principles and the development of presentations and recommendations in matters concerning the regulation of Natural Gas Utilities, Municipal Gas Companies, and Natural Gas Marketers. The Financial Analyst will be expected to perform independent analysis on financial statements, capital budgets, expense budgets, project costs, calculation of regulated rates, and other complex financial matters.

Duties and Responsibilities/Technical Skills:

- Conduct independent analyses on a wide range of financial matters. This will include the review of financial statements, applying accounting principles, auditing, review capital budgets, trend analysis, variance analysis, market share, and review of affiliate transaction data and methodologies.
- Analyze rate case filings or Georgia rate alternative mechanisms, including revenue requirement, rate of return, depreciation, working capital, and utility company investments.
- Perform analysis of regulatory filings made on a quarterly and annual basis.
- Issues Data Requests in order to obtain financial and technical information from Utilities and Marketers.
- Acquire knowledge of the natural gas marketer application process and the ongoing review of gas marketer financial and technical capability.
- Proficiency in Excel to review and create financial models and conduct financial analysis.

- Candidate will develop a good working knowledge of the Georgia rules, laws, policies, and procedures relevant to the natural gas industry and how this affects Georgia and will apply critical thinking and analytical skills utilizing accounting/financial knowledge and/or natural gas regulatory practices and standards related to accounting, finance, and economics analyses.
- Lead multiple projects, make independent assessments, write reports and present recommendations before the Commission in a public forum with the ability to answer questions and defend positions.
- Participate and perform effectively in assignments showing the ability to work well in a team.
- Ability to manage multiple priorities and meet deadlines.

Minimum Qualifications:

Bachelor's degree in accounting or finance from an accredited college or university. Intermediate or above skills in Excel, Word, Outlook, and PowerPoint. Excellent oral, written, and presentation are essential skills.

- Attention to detail
- Critical thinking
- Strong writing skills
- Problem-solving
- Prioritizing

Preferred Qualifications

- Understanding and evaluation of Depreciation
- Capital Budget
- Understanding of business capital structure (Debt & Equity)
- Understanding of GAAP
- Understanding of Business Structures
- Advance proficiency in Excel, Word, and PowerPoint
- Understanding complex financial models
- Public Speaking

Excellent Benefits:

- 401(k) with matching
- Defined Benefit Plan (pension)
- Health Insurance
- Dental and Vision Insurance
- Employee Discounts

- Flexible Schedule
- Health Savings Account
- Life Insurance
- Vacation Leave – three weeks annually that rolls over
- Sick Leave – three weeks annually that rolls over
- 13 Paid Holidays
- Professional development assistance

To Apply:

Apply online at <https://psc.ga.gov/career-opportunities/> or via Indeed.

Candidates selected for further consideration will be required to submit the following:

Georgia Public Service Commission Employment Application
College or University Transcripts